Trial of Batavia Boy for Father's Murder Starts—Physician's Testimony Is Important.

Batavia, Ohio.—First steps for hearing to be given Gus Liebermann, aged 17, were taken Tuesday, when the grand jury convened here, he being charged with the murder of his father, Frank Liebermann.

The elder Liebermann was found at the family home, just east of here, August 18th, fatally wounded in the hip by a gun wound. The son had shortly before ridden up on a bicycle to a neighbor's home, asking that they telephone a physician, that his father was dangerously hurt. The family at the time were attending the county fair at Owensville. Following that the son disappeared, and while continued search was made for him he was not placed under arrest until several days later, when he surrendered to Sheriff Klapp.

Before dying the father asked that the members of the family leave the room until he made a statement to the attending physician. This statement has not yet been divulged. It is said that the son denies responsibility of the shooting.

He has refused to make statement concerning the shooting, and the charge which took him before the grand jury was second degree murder. Indications are that the court hearing will be taken for final decision, after the indictment is returned, without delay.

CHRIS GREEN WILL BE REBUILT AT MANCHESTER

Captain Gordon Greene Will Rebuild Steamship Burned at Cincinnati As Soon As Possible.

The Manchester Signal says Captain Gordon Greene will have the Chris Greene towed to the Manchester shipyards to be rebuilt. This will mean much to Manchester. Every available mechanic will be employed at a good wage and thousands of dollars will be expended in making this steamer better than new.

Captain Greene suffered a loss of more than $60,000 November 4th, when steamers and wharves were licked up by flames.

He uses a sinking fund instead of insurance to build up with. He has many personal friends here who are glad to see him pushing onward after such a big loss.

Mrs. Greene who has always been fifty-fifty with the captain has been licensed as master and pilot for many years. When she assumes command of a steamer either at the wheel or for-castle she stands the full watch and never sidesteps duty.

$50,000 SUIT IS FILED AS RESULT OF BOAT COLLAPSE

Cincinnati Woman Sues $50,000 From Island Queen Owners as result of Deck Collapse En Route To Point Pleasant.

An Echo of the Island Queen disaster last April during the celebration of the Grant Centennial was heard in the Hamilton, Ohio, county clerk's office Thursday when Mrs. Myrtle Maddox Keen, of Cincinnati, editor and publisher of The Women's Missions and The Children's Home Missions, the official publications of the Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, filed suit for $50,000 against the Coney Island Company for injuries received during the disaster.

The petition describes the collapse of the hurricane deck of the pleasure steamer while it was en route to Pt. Pleasant on April 27, 1922.

Mrs. Keen sets forth in her petition that she boarded the boat as an invited guest of the Centennial Committee and paid the defendant company the price of the fare. She says she was standing on the hurricane deck with several other passengers about 2 o'clock in the afternoon when the deck collapsed.

The petition recites that when the deck collapsed, Mrs. Keen was hurled "violently forward, striking her left shoulder and legs on the deck, or on the chairs or other objects on the deck." As the result of being caught in the collapse of the deck, Mrs. Keen says, her right leg was bruised and cut, that the ligaments of her left shoulder were torn and that several nerves in the region of her left shoulder were also torn.

Mrs. Keen said that she still was suffering from the injuries and asserted she was unable to say if she will be afflicted permanently as a result. She has lost twenty-eight pounds, she says.

She also set forth that she already has spent $1,500 for medical attention and that she could not raise her left arm above her shoulder.

Paris, Ky., Nov. 16.—In Bourbon Circuit Court this morning, on motion of Commonwealth's Attorney Victor K. Bradley, the indictment against J. D. Thompson, Sr., of Paris, charging assault with intent to kill, was changed to assault and battery.

Thompson entered a plea of guilty to the modified charge and was fined $750.

Mrs. Pearl Shumate Robinson, of Winchester, attempted to enter Thompson's automobile at the corner of Fourth and Pleasant streets while the car was in motion. It is alleged. She was carried on the radiator several blocks and was run over by the automobile when she fell from her perilous position at the corner of Fourth and High streets. Vanceburg, Ky., Nov. 16.—Special State Game Warden C. Pollett, of this city, went to Trough Camp near Olive Hill, Ky., and arrested Donald Henderson and Pierce Reynolds for hunting out of season and when arrested both men had their guns and also had game in their possession.

When Warden Pollett told the men to consider themselves under arrest Reynolds made no resistance but Henderson said, "You won't arrest me," and raising his gun fired two shots at Pollett, neither of which took effect. Henderson quickly reloaded his gun and was about to fire again when Pollett shot him in the hand with a pistol, the ball passed completely through his hand and splintered his gunstock.

At Olive Hill, where the prisoners were tried, Henderson was fined $24 and Reynolds $14. Game Warden Pollett refused to prosecute Henderson for shooting at him, but Henderson had a warrant issued for Pollett and he was arrested for shooting to kill. ### AUTO SMASHES INTO STREET CAR IN FOG OF EARLY MORNING

Mr. George Barkley, of Conny, Badly Cut on Face and Hands, the Other Occupant Escapes But Car Is Smashed.

Mr. George Barkley, well known farmer, was rather painfully, though not seriously, injured when his car ran into a street car in East Second street near the old ball park at an early hour Friday morning.

Mr. Barkley and Mr. D. H. Deatley were coming to Mayville in the former's Ford to take back to his home, Mr. Bruce Barkley, son of the former, who was seriously injured several weeks ago when a tank upon which he was working exploded and who was a patient at Hayswood Hospital. The young man had improved to such an extent that he could be safely taken to his home.

There was a very heavy fog early Friday morning and the automobile was moving West on Second street directly in the path of car tracks. Mr. M. T. McClanahan, who was the motor-man on the car, was running his street car at a very slow speed because of the fog. He noticed something dark come in the pathway of the car and attempted to reduce the speed of the slowly moving car when the crash came.

Mr. Deatley escaped without injury but Mr. Barkley was cut about the face and hands by flying glass from the broken wind shield. The auto was very badly damaged. The street car was not much damaged.

CLARENCE MATHEWS Editor and Manager

RATES IN ADVANCE: By Carrier or Mail, $3 per year; $1.75, Six Months; 40 Cents per Month.

OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

BACHE'S ADVICE

Competent observers who are returning from European tours agree that the allied debts to the United States should not be canceled. Jules S. Bache, a prominent New York banker, reports on European conditions as he has seen them this summer. Mr. Bache believes that Europe needs a healthful leadership, and has urged President Harding to call an economic conference at which the whole question of international finance, reparations and debts could be discussed. He thinks France is able to meet her obligations even without the aid of German reparations, and that she can pay her debts to this country, but will do so only if pressure is brought to bear by the United States.

It may be possible that Mr. Harding will find a way to take some such action as Mr. Bache advises. It is already rumored in London that the American Ambassador has discussed with Lord Curzon the calling of a conference on the reduction of land armaments. There has come no hint from Washington that such a meeting is in prospect, but if it should be held it could easily lead to a discussion of European finances. Armaments and the balancing of budgets are very closely associated in the Old World, and if the appropriations for defense can be scaled down it will be comparatively easy to find a way out of the financial problems.

SMILES.

A man came into the club the other day with his face half-hidden by sticking plaster.

"A motorist friend of mine has just met with a nasty accident," he explained.

"But what have you been doing?" we asked in chorus.

"Oh, I was the nasty accident!"—Eve (London).

Little four-year-old Jimmy, being told to pray for his absent father, for his small brother who was ill, and the servant who had sprained her ankle, did so. But to his mother's astonishment he concluded as follows: "And now, God, please take good care of yourself, for if anything happens to you we'll all be in the soup."

COMMENT

It is to be hoped that the people of Maysville will demonstrate their approval of and interest in a Lyceum course by their presence at the High School auditorium this evening. The course has not been given the support this year that it deserves and unless the public's support is more heartily given to the remaining numbers, it is more than likely that the Board of Education will not plan a course for next year.

The farmer appears to be coming into his own. The tobacco pool is unquestionably a big success and it now looks like the Farmers' union has about cornered the milk and cream production in this section. If the farmers keep up their pooling there's no telling what will yet happen.

Germany has another political upheaval and Chancellor Wirth and his cabinet have fallen. Poor old Germany and Russia are having hard times with their trials at democracy. But they don't seem to be having much more trouble with their systems of government than do England, France and Italy.

Clemenceau, the French Tiger, is on his way to America. He is to speak in four or five cities and a series of articles he will write while here is to be syndicated and published in many newspapers. America will extend a hearty welcome to the grand old man of Europe and will await with interest his opinion of us.

The opportunity to inspect a model country high school and to hear several splendid addresses by prominent educators will attract many to the Orangeburg school dedication Saturday but that big turkey dinner so extensively advertised will bring out the most of the crowd.

An evening once in a while at the picture show, lodge, club or dance is enjoyable but for real enjoyment there is nothing so satisfying as an evening at home. Have you tried it lately?

From this distance, it looks like there's going to be lots of fun and excitement in the Democratic primary race for Governor. Some dozen or more candidates have been suggested and the authoritative announcement that Judge Robert W. Bingham would not accept the nomination has left the field open for all comers.

MORE GASOLINE OBTAINED FROM CRUDE PETROLEUM

Yield Now 25 Per Cent. as Against 11 Per Cent. in Early Days.

In order to supply the constantly increasing demand for gasoline it has been necessary for the oil industry to perfect improvements in refining processes which would result in a greater yield of gasoline per barrel of crude oil.

Thus, in the early days of the automobile, the average yield of commercial gasoline from crude oil was not more than 11 per cent., while today it is about 25 per cent.

In 1909, 540,000,000 gallons of gasoline were produced from 183,171,000 barrels of crude oil. In 1920, 4,882,000,000 gallons of gasoline were produced from 443,402,000 barrels of crude.

In other words, with an increase of only 142 per cent. in the production of crude petroleum, the oil industry produced 804 per cent. more gasoline.

In the screen version of "Peazie", the William Fox adaptation of Florence Bingham Livingston's novel "The Custard Cup," there is a little dog that is destined to make a name for himself on the screen. The dog caused considerable comment around the studio by his novel tricks which he performed with apparent willingness before the camera. As a result discussion arose as to what kind of dog he was. Some of the guesses ranged from a Russian wolfhound to Mexican hairless, but the dog expert of the studio decided he was a water spaniel. That went until the subject was brought to the attention of the publicity department, which decided immediately that any dog working in Fox pictures automatically became a "Fox" terrier.

UNCLE TED'S BED-TIME STORIES.

"You know it's a postal card but I'll bet that's all you know about it," said Jack as he was talking to Ruth who was busily engaged in writing a note on one of Uncle Sam's own postal cards, the kind for sale in all the post-offices of the country.

"What else is there to know about it?" asked Ruth. "I know it's a post card and that it cost me a penny and that I can write a lot on the back and mail it just that way."

"You don't know where it was printed," replied Jack.

"Sure, it was printed at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Washington," was Ruth's quick reply.

"Sorry, Ruth but you're wrong," interrupted Uncle Ted. "Uncle Sam's postal cards are printed in the biggest printing shop in the world, the Government Printing Office, at Washington. They are printed along with the thousands of government reports, Congressional Record, Congressional directory, money order blanks and I don't remember what all. How about a story on that big print shop? Seems to me you kiddies should know something about it."

"Fine," replied Jack. "I'd love to hear about it."

"I suppose there is no other publication in the country so well known as the Congressional Record which gives the daily proceedings for both the Senate and the House of Representatives, as well as speeches of the members which they are allowed to have printed in full. This publication is only printed when Congress is in session and is the biggest job of Uncle Sam's print shop. Nearly 33,000 copies are printed every day and work doesn't start on it until 7 o'clock in the evening and every copy is delivered in Washington or put in the mail for the remainder of the country before breakfast the following morning. The cost of the Record runs around $600,000 a year. There is no finer shop in the world than the G. P. O. and under the direction of the present Public Printer (for that is the title given the man at its head) Mr. George H. Carter, of Iowa, the big plant is being run as efficiently and economically as any modern, successful business.

"Let us look into the history of this big business of Uncle Sam's. Way back in 1818 Congress realized that an efficient plan to handle the job of America's printing had to be figured out. A joint committee was appointed to look into the matter and recommendations were made. But nothing was done until 1861 when, under the Act of June 23, 1860, the first building of the two now in use became the Government Printing Office and President Lincoln appointed John D. Defrees of Indiana as the first Public Printer.

"From a small plant in 1861 the G. P. O. has grown to the point where it covers fourteen acres of floor space. Its buildings are worth more than $3,500,000 and the machinery in them at least $3,000,000 more. The value of the printing turned out each year approximates $14,000,000 printed from more than 170,000 forms, as the type pages are called. That is more than one a minute for every working day of eight hours.

"When we fear that this plant is called upon to do $5,000 different kinds of printing jobs on 152 presses in a year's time we can see that real efficiency, such as Mr. Carter has put into the plant, must be maintained. More than 60 daily, weekly, and monthly reports are printed, and the current publications include four dailies, 20 weeklies and 29 monthlies, and the number of copies of these various publications runs from 7 to 235,000.

"You were talking about postal cards. Try to figure out a pile of 1-250,000,000! That many and then some are printed every year, besides more than 180,000,000 money orders, those blanks by which you can safely send money through the mails. And the paper, kiddies, used in this printing. In a year's time 50,000,000 pounds are used, enough to paper all the houses in two good sized cities.

"The finest improvements yet made in the G. P. O. have been since Mr. Carter took charge. The roof has been raised to make another story in order that the need for a real photo-engraving plant might be filled. In addition to this, he has instituted a cafeteria to feed the 4,500 employees, and a large recreation hall with a stage and bowling alleys. Every Monday morning 60 division chiefs meet in the recreation hall for a business conference. The cafeteria is the most wonderful you ever saw. It is open day and night as the G. P. O. is always running. Before this the workers had to eat in dirty, cheap lunch rooms, because the plant is too far from the center of the city where the good eating places are located. Now the workers can get good food in clean surroundings with a place to rest without rushing to force down poor food in the thirty minutes they are allowed for meals. All of these things count a great deal in keeping up the morale of the workers of an institution as large as this one.

"And I nearly forgot that there is a big hospital too where more than 4,000 cases are cared for within a year. So you see, your postal card, Ruth, came from an interesting part of your Uncle Sam's government machinery. I am glad you started the discussion, for you children should know more about these things and how well they are being run today."

TOBACCO CROP SHOWS INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR

State Crop Report Shows That State Will Grow More Tobacco This Year Than Last.

The Kentucky crop report for November, 1922, follows:

Kentucky's total production of tobacco, of all types, in 1922, is estimated at 446,400,000 pounds in the November crop report for Kentucky issued recently by the Louisville office of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics in co-operation with State Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hanna. This is about 37 per cent. increase over the 325,710,000 pounds produced in Kentucky in 1921, but only about 96 per cent. of the state's average annual production of 467,000,000 pounds from 1916 to 1920, both inclusive. Both burley and dark types show a sharp increase in acreage in Kentucky this year compared to 1921, the per cent. of increase being greater in the dark districts than in the burley district. The average yield per acre this year in Kentucky, including all types of tobacco, is 800 pounds, as compared to 846 pounds in 1921 and the ten-year average of 855 pounds per acre. The United States entire tobacco crop, of all types, is estimated at 1,330,275,000 pounds this season compared to 1,075,418,000 pounds in 1921, and an average annual production of 1,377,866,000 pounds 1916-20, inclusive. Quality of tobacco in Kentucky is reported as 88 per cent. this season compared to 84 per cent. in 1921, while the quality of the United States total crop is 84.3 per cent. this season compared to 79.7 per cent. last year.

The Kentucky corn crop this season is estimated at 90,748,000 bushels compared to 82,150,000 bushels last year and an average annual production of 97,152,000 bushels 1916-20 inclusive. While this year's Irish potato crop in Kentucky is estimated at 7,720,000 bushels or 25 per cent. more than the 6,170,000 bushels produced in this state in 1921. Other crops reported for Kentucky are: Sweet potatoes 1,818,000 bushels; apples 5,079,000 bushels; pears 150,000 bushels; clover seed 46,000 bushels; and sorghum sirup 3,584,000 gallons. Last year Kentucky's production of these crops was: Sweet potatoes 1,827,000 bushels; apples 636,000 bushels; pears 4,000 bushels; clover seed 24,000 bushels; and sorghum sirup 4,080,000 gallons.

It is estimated that approximately 5 per cent of Kentucky's acreage of corn this season was put into silos, the average yield per acre being only about 5.5 tons. About 83 per cent. of this season's corn crop in Kentucky is reported as being merchantable, and farmers also report they have only 6 per cent. of last year's Kentucky corn crop still on farms. The average yield of corn per acre this year in Kentucky is 28 bushels, compared to 25.6 per acre last year and a ten-year average of 27.3 bushels.

WOMAN S. A. E. MEMBER WHO SAVED EARLY RECORDS DEAD.

Frankfort, — Miss Lucy Pattie, 80, probably the only woman member of a Greek letter fraternity, died at her home, following a stroke of apoplexy. Miss Pattie was an initiate of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. When the "S. A. E." boys left to join the Confederate army Miss Lucy took charge of their ritual and records and preserved them until the return of the survivors. The youth, who had left them in her custody, was killed and the others supposed they had been lost. As a special mark of appreciation when the boys were revived Miss Lucy was initiated.

BLUE SKY LAW TESTED.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 16.—The constitutionality of the Blue Sky law will be argued in the court of appeals tomorrow in the case of Thomas J. King, of Louisville, against the Commonwealth. King was charged with selling certain stock without first having gained the approval of the state banking commissioner.

The claim advanced by King is that the stock was exempt from the provisions of the Blue Sky law, while the Commonwealth contends that permission for the sale should have been given by the banking commissioner. Another point to be considered is that the act, if constitutional, does not apply to a common law trust.

SIX JURORS ACCEPTED FOR MASSACRE TRIAL.

Marion, Ill., Nov. 16.—Six jurors were in the jury box late today, at the end of the fourth day of the trial of 5 men in connection with the Herrin mine killings. Two jurors, Berry Deaton, 55 years old, and W. H. Davidson, 53, farmers, were accepted today, and four jurors previously had been agreed on.

The state late in the afternoon accepted four prospective jurors, and tendered the panel to the defense, which excused one with its second peremptory challenge and excused another for a cause in which the state objected. Judge D. T. Hartwell, presiding, agreed to rule on it tomorrow.
